New outdoor lights

Pastor Mary's neighbor Tim offered to install solar lights to illuminate our church's courtyard. He has installed two as a test run, they are working well, and soon there will be more.

Sunol Food Swap

The courtyard at the Little Brown Church will be the site of a Sunol Food Swap on Saturday, September 20, from 10:30 a.m. until noon.

If you are interested in participating, please respond to this newsletter and the editor will send you the invite.

What is a food swap, you ask? According to foodswapnetwork, "A food swap is a recurring event where members of a community share homemade, homegrown, or foraged foods with each other. Swaps allow direct trades to take place between attendees, e.g., a loaf of bread for a jar of pickles or a dozen backyard eggs. These events are a delicious way to diversify the homemade foods in your own pantry while getting to know members of your local food community." Do you bake or cook or grow? Do you like trying new foods and recipes? RSVP and join us! Here's what you do: 1. RSVP that you're coming 2. Make, portion, and package your product to trade 3. Prepare some of your product for sampling 4. Arrive on time to set up, swap, and have fun!
